

WAREHOUSE #1
The Good Spirits Company

Legendary Marques TECA

Time has added layers of complexity to this wickedly wild, high-ester spirit, making it an essential experience for rum lovers. Long Pond (and other high-ester distilleries in Trelawny) uses traditional fermentation techniques. They utilize "dunder" (the acidic spent wash from previous distillations) in "muck pits" to cultivate unique bacterial wash.

It is less floral and "sweet" than other high-ester Jamaican marks and leans heavily into savory, vegetal, and industrial notes. Tasting notes include overripe bananas, rotting tropical fruit, olives, iodine, and rubber cement. On the palate: Oily, peppery, with rich hints of papaya, mango, and savory flavors.
